2,000 CONVICTS IN PRISON IN CALIFORNIA END THEIR FIGHT WITH SURRENDER

Weapons, Including Two Pistols, Number of Knives and Axe, Taken From Them After Battle Which Resulted in Deaths of Two Guards and Seven Prisoners and Wounding of Seventeen Convicts; Four Guards Held Prisoner Released; Imposing Forces Thrown Around Prison at Folsom by California Officials

Folsom Prison, Calif., Nov. 25.—The revolt of 2,000 convicts here which resulted in the deaths of two guards and seven prisoners and the wounding of seventeen prisoners, came to an end at 7:30 o'clock this morning when the rioters surrendered their arms and released the four guards they had imprisoned with them.

Warden Court Smith advised Governor C. C. Young of California that the prisoners had accepted the terms laid down by the officials.

Unconditional surrender marked the end of the revolt. The guards who had been held prisoner emerged from the cellhouse carrying the arms, including two pistols, a number of knives and an axe, with which the convicts had been able to hold off the guards for nearly twenty-four hours.

Prison officials expressed the belief that had it not been for these weapons, the revolt would have been quelled soon after the first riot.

The end of the rebellion came after a night during which state officials had assembled at the prison all resources of the California National Guard including machine guns and armored tanks. It was the greatest turnout of state troops since the Wheatland hop riots of 1911.

Conservative Wins British By-election

Canterbury, Eng., Nov. 25.—The Conservative party retained its hold on the Canterbury constituency in the by-election, but with a much reduced majority.

The figures, made public today, show Sir W. Wayland, Conservative, was elected, with 13,057 votes, over Colonel D. Carnegie, Liberal, 10,175. The Conservative majority at the last election was more than 9,000.

The by-election was necessitated by the elevation of Rt. Hon. Ronald McKinnell to the peerage.

COMMITTEE TO WORK FOR WORSTED MILL

Chamber of Commerce Members Will Campaign For By-law

A committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will work to secure the passage of the worsted mill by-law, it was decided at a meeting of the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce this afternoon.

Bringing the matter before the directors, C. P. W. Schwenger said he did not think there was the slightest danger, except through apathy of the people, of the by-law not carrying.

Alderman Cuthbert Holmes pointed out the by-law would be voted upon on the same date as the civic election. Voting, however, would take place in a different building, the voting on the by-law being in the old Bank of Commerce building on Douglas and Cormorant streets. A committee could do good work in directing electors where to vote. It was decided to name the same committee that worked for the passage of the elevator by-law.

HUNDREDS REPORTED KILLED IN UKRAINE

Dispatch to Bucharest Says Factions Are Fighting Bitterly in City Streets

Bucharest, Nov. 25.—A special dispatch to the newspaper Dimineasta here to-day says chaos and anarchy are reigning in the Ukraine, with hundreds killed in the street fighting.

The dispatch says hundreds of civilians and soldiers were killed in three street fighting in the town of Kaniwsky-Podolsk.

The firing of cannon could be heard all along the Dniester River, the dispatch said, while a meeting in Kaniwsky-Podolsk, a Russian mixed commission was cancelled because of the disturbance.

NEW PROVINCE OF PEACE AREA NOW IS URGED

Former Mayor of Peace River, Alberta, Makes Territorial Suggestion

Peace River, Alta., Nov. 25.—Secession of the Peace River district from the mother provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, and the establishment of a new "Province of Peace River" is offered as a solution of the development problem of the northern portions of Alberta and British Columbia, by Charles W. Frederick, former mayor of Peace River.

The new province as proposed by Mr. Frederick would be larger than either British Columbia or Alberta. It would include all of the Peace River drainage basin in Alberta in addition to the Lesser Slave Lake region. In British Columbia it would include the city of Prince Rupert, with the Pacific terminus of the Canadian National Railway, and all of that province north of the fifty-fourth parallel.

RAILWAY PROBLEM

Mr. Frederick, who makes his proposal in a signed article published in the Peace River newspaper, states public opinion in the Peace River country favors "drastic measures" either to secure the railway development demanded for years, particularly with respect to an outlet to the Pacific Coast, or to demand an opportunity to undertake its own development.

At a public meeting here last night a resolution was passed endorsing the proposals advanced by Mr. Frederick. A committee was appointed to confer with residents in all parts of the territory with a view to the formation of a separate province.

New York, Nov. 25 (Canadian Press)—Premier King arrived here this morning from Washington, where he had spent three days as the guest of Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister, and Mrs. Massey, at the Canadian Legation.

The Prime Minister will stay in New York for two days visiting friends, the Canadian Press understands, and will return to Ottawa Sunday night.

LIBERAL CHOSEN FOR PRAIRIE SEAT IN THE COMMONS

Regina, Nov. 25.—William Bock, farmer and Liberal candidate, was declared elected by acclamation today to represent the constituency of Maple Creek, Saskatchewan, in the House of Commons.

While the news of the acclamation was expected, with the experience in the provincial constituency of Maple Creek yesterday, when a last-hour nomination was received, there was some reason to believe there would be a duplication of the event.

The by-election was called as the result of the appointment of Hon. George Spence, who formerly represented the constituency in the Federal House, to the posts of Minister of Railways in the Provincial Cabinet.

GILES INQUIRY PLAN IS VETOED

Washington, Nov. 25.—The British Embassy here will take no official action upon the request of Capt. Frederick A. Giles, British aviator, that an official inquiry be opened to determine the weather conditions last Tuesday when he abandoned his aeroplane flight from San Francisco to Honolulu.

A telegram making such a request was received to-day by the Embassy, in which Capt. Giles repeated that the weather conditions, he encountered on his flight were completely at variance with the reports of the United States weather bureau at San Francisco, and such as to oblige him to abandon his flight.

Victoria is the only city in Canada to have the Governor-General as the first citizen on its voters' list, following his acceptance of the freedom of the city this Spring.

Immigration Charge Denied

Federal Department Knows of no M.P.'s Who Trafficked in Permits

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—"We have no knowledge, whatever of any member of Parliament trafficking in immigration permits and we do not believe any member has done so."

This was the statement made by W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, to-day regarding charges made by Alderman M. J. Goldwell in Regina that at a time when immigration officials had put up the bars on immigration permits to the agreement with the railways in March last, a regular traffic was carried on at Ottawa in the sale of permits to admit men who were not ordinarily eligible for entry into Canada.

Permits were granted to members of Parliament, Mr. Egan stated, only in cases where the members vouched for the applicants. The number of permits granted annually in such instances did not exceed 2,000.

Southampton, Eng., Nov. 25.—Leopold Garcia, who gained recognition in Great Britain and the United States as a brilliant scholar and eloquent lay preacher, is living in an almshouse here.

At Cambridge University Mr. Garcia was regarded as one of the most promising speakers who had ever taken part in the Cambridge Union debates. On leaving school he had several engagements as a teacher and then went to the United States to Kansas City.

"While I was in the United States I was given full pastoral rights in a Congregational Church in Kansas City," Mr. Garcia said in telling of his successes and later misfortunes. "I became keenly interested in prohibition and went all over the United States on behalf of the Anti-Saloon League. I did this at the risk of my life, for at that time bootleggers were very active. I was warned I might be subjected to violence at their hands."

HEALTH FAILED
His parents in England died, his own health failed and Mr. Garcia returned to England. Despite occasional appointments in churches, he has been unable to get regular employment and for the past twelve months has been in the almshouse. He has vainly sought for work month after month and still is looking for any sort of a job which may lift him out of his unfortunate plight.

RURAL SAANICH TO BENEFIT BY SLASH IN LIGHT CHARGES

Reductions in electric lighting charges in rural Saanich will become effective on January 1, when services beyond the three-mile limit will be reduced from the present rate of 15 cents per kilowatt to 8 cents. The meter rental of 20 cents per month will also be abolished.

This concession follows nearly a year of persistent work by Reeve William Crouch, who has been co-operating with Mayor J. C. Pendray in demands for better terms.

In a letter to Reeve Crouch, Manager H. A. Goward this morning stated that the present rural lighting rate of 15 cents, less 20 per cent discount, will be superseded by the new scale on January 1. The maximum charge will be 8 cents per kilowatt, reducing to 6 cents. There will be no discount. The meter rental of 20 cents will be established for all services.

These rates will become effective beyond the three-mile circle, which takes in much of the closer settled areas of Saanich. In these areas the new city rates will be effective, with no meter rental and a minimum charge of 75 cents per month.

GABRIOLA ISLAND SEEKS NEW FERRY

Inauguration of Motor Service to Vancouver Island Is Urged on Sutherland

Possibility of establishing an automobile ferry service between Gabriola Island and Vancouver Island will be investigated by engineers of the Public Works Department shortly, representatives of people living on Gabriola stated after an interview with Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, yesterday afternoon.

A delegation headed by G. H. O'Halloran and M. B. Jackson, K.C., explained to Dr. Sutherland the desire of the Gabriola people for adequate means of transportation to Vancouver Island. It was suggested that some form of automobile ferry service be arranged, possibly with the use of a large barge or scow propelled by a tug. The shortest distance between Gabriola and Vancouver Island would be adopted as the ferry route, making operations as rapid and as economical as possible.

About 250 people live on Gabriola Island and own nearly sixty automobiles, which they are unable to take to Vancouver Island at present, the Minister was told.

NEW DIRIGIBLE IS EXPECTED TO FLY ACROSS ATLANTIC IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS

Howden, Yorkshire, Eng., Nov. 25.—Designs are being worked out for a dirigible airship which will cross the Atlantic between London and New York in forty-eight hours, Commander Burney of the Airship Guarantee Company announced to-day. His announcement was made after he had shown newspapermen the airship R-100, now being constructed here. The dirigible would be as far in advance of the R-10 as the latter was in advance of the oosolele R-33, he said.

The R-100 is being built at a cost of about $2,200,000. Its total displacement will be 154 tons. It is fitted with six Rolls-Royce engines of 700-horsepower each. The ship is expected to develop a top speed of more than eighty miles an hour and a cruising speed of seventy miles an hour. The cruising range will be more than 5,000 miles. The dirigible is designed to carry thirty tons of fuel.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—A large white United States yacht, probably the Vidor, passed through the Strait of Canso at 2 p.m. Atlantic Time, to-day. The vessel was travelling at twenty knots.

Word to this effect was received by Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Customs, from Mulgrave, N.S., a few minutes after the vessel had gone through the Strait. The message from Mulgrave read:

TEXTILE INDUSTRY NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

British Manufacturers of Woolen Goods Say Wages Must be Reduced

London, Nov. 25.—Developments in the English textile industry, particularly the woolen sector, are following closely those reported from New England. Employers in the woolen industry have notified their workers it is deemed impossible to restore prosperity unless wages are reduced, and therefore the expiring wage agreement will not be renewed.

The Industrial Council has been trying to effect an amicable settlement of the difficulty, but the negotiations have been fruitless so far. The negotiations have not been broken off, however. The main stumbling block is the insistence of the employers that the wage question must be disposed of first, whereas the workers maintain alternative methods for helping the industry are available and should receive equal consideration by the employers.

ARBITRATION PLAN
The employers also object to the questions in dispute being submitted to arbitration as proposed by the workers.

The notices sent out by the employers that the wage agreement would not be renewed will become effective at the end of this week, but it is not probable there will be an immediate wholesale stoppage of work.

With building figures for Greater Victoria totaling $2,254,431 from January 1 to November 24, a construction record will be established for the year that has not been surpassed in the history of the city. A number of building projects will be commenced before the expiration of the year and will bring the building totals for the twelve-month period, it is estimated, up to $2,500,000.

The city's building programme, all covered by permits for the eleven months just closing, is announced as the City Hall as valued at $1,137,805.

This large total does not include the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital, being erected at a cost of $305,000, and which is not included in the city's building figures up to yesterday, when the totals were tabulated.

The addition of the hospital contract places the city's total for the year to date at $1,502,805.

GREAT ADVANCE
Compared with an aggregate of approximately $508,000 for the same period in 1926, building permits issued for the current year show a tremendous increase in construction work.

OAK BAY BUSY
The municipality of Oak Bay has also had a big building year. Permits issued this year at the Oak Bay Municipal hall show building in the popular residential district to the value of $502,605, as compared with a figure of $215,500 last year.

NAVAL CONFERENCE IN 1929 SUGGESTED BY BRITISH LEADERS

Efforts to Reduce Cruiser Building Programmes May Be Made Then

London, Nov. 25 (Canadian Press Cable)—Negotiations in connection with a further conference on the question of naval limitation have been started nor are any contemplated for the immediate future, the Canadian Press has learned. However, there is a definite feeling in British diplomatic circles that another conference, say in 1929, might produce valuable results inasmuch as it might considerably influence the cruiser programmes which otherwise would be in the process of being carried out two years later. When the Washington Conference agreement will be due for review.

PREMIER BALDWIN VIOLATED A RULE

London, Nov. 25 (Canadian Press Cable)—Premier Baldwin unconsciously violated a rule of Parliament Wednesday night when the lights went out by appearing in the lobby, puffing his pipe. Other members observed Mr. Baldwin's lapse and gave him a cheer, but he appeared not to grasp the significance of the demonstration. He kept on smoking.

NATURE THE PHYSICIAN

To the Editor:—If the New York Academy of Medicine has nothing more to suggest to the cancer sufferer than to seek the aid of the surgeon, suffering humanity had better turn from America to Europe and listen to what a celebrated authority in London, Sir Thomas Horder, physician to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and consulting surgeon to St. Bartholomew's Hospital has to say when he refers to the whole question of cancer as being in the melting-pot, that the old method of surgery is being discarded, and that for several years in St. Bartholomew's, cases of cancer have been referred to medical, in preference to surgical treatment.

Is it not possible that we have expected too much from the knife? With all the refinements of modern surgery, we have made no progress in the reduction of the mortality rate. In fact, according to the recent reports of our medical authorities, it is still rising.

Let me repeat what has been stated so frequently—cancer is not the end-product of a long period of systemic poisoning, and can be satisfactorily relieved only by removal of the cause. Instead of the surgeon being the one to be called to a case of cancer, the physician should be the first, and by a careful regulation of the patient's life and habits, might render the surgeon's services unnecessary.

Let us get at the beginning of things. "Civilization has made cancer; civilization can cure cancer." Remove the poisons, cease to partake of more, and give Nature a chance. Where Nature makes no effort, there can be no cure; but assisted Nature frequently works wonders.

JAPAN PLANES MAY LAND ON THIS COAST

Japanese Representative in Vancouver To-day Tells of Plans For Flight

Vancouver, Nov. 25.—Vancouver may be terminus of the world's longest non-stop aeroplane flight—from Tokyo across 4,200 miles of the North Pacific—which will be attempted next year by pilots of the Imperial Aeronautical Association of Japan.

This was the possibility advanced by Y. T. Miwa, air attaché to the Japanese Embassy at Washington, who is in Vancouver to-day investigating the airport facilities here. He arrived this morning from Seattle, where he visited the municipal and governmental airports.

"If airport facilities in Vancouver are as good as those in Seattle," he said, "there is an excellent chance that the trans-Pacific flight may make this city the terminus of their flight."

PREMIER VISITOR IN VANCOUVER TO-DAY

Dr. MacLean to Address Mass Meeting in Terminal City Evening of December 1

Vancouver, Nov. 25.—Prosperity and progress in British Columbia have formed the platform of the Liberal government, and when we see how our Province is now more prosperous than it has been for the last fifteen years, it seems we can not do better than continue our policy.

Premier J. D. MacLean, who made the above statement, is in Vancouver to-day on a flying visit from the Capital.

Dr. MacLean said it was unlikely he would announce any change in the Liberal platform at his coming address before a mass meeting here December 1.

The Premier occupied his offices in the courthouse to-day, where he kept several business appointments. He will return to Victoria to-night.

Canada A Second Garden of Eden

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 25.—If all that Hon. John Bracken, Premier of Manitoba, says is true of Canada, that country is a second Garden of Eden. Says Bracken:

"Our wheat is the best in the world; our apples have taken practically all the prizes in British Empire marketing exhibitions where they have been shown; Canadian cheese has no superior; our best creamery butter demands the best market price; our honey not only possesses exceptional flavor but the average yield in some provinces is almost three times that of the United States; Canadian eggs equal any found in the British markets and we have the best grading system for farm products in the world."

LIGHTING DATES IN VANCOUVER ARE CUT

Estimated People of Greater Vancouver Area Will Save
$200,000 Yearly

Vancouver, Nov. 25.—Reduction in rates for electric current in Vancouver from 4 1/2 cents to 4 cents a kilowatt hour will go into effect January 1, 1928. It is announced by the B.C. Electric Railway Company Limited.

The reduction, which will apply to commercial as well as to domestic customers of the company, will mean a saving of $200,000 annually to the public of Greater Vancouver, it is estimated.

In Point Grey, South Vancouver, Burnaby and North Vancouver, where the present rate is 5 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour, a corresponding reduction to 5 cents will be made.

"Our present rates went into effect January 1, 1925," declared W. G. Murrin, vice-president of the company, in making the announcement. "They are 4 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour, dropping to 4 cents an hour after a minimum amount of current is used. Our new rates will be 4 cents, dropping to 2 cents as before."

NEIGHBORING MUNICIPALITIES

In the municipalities of Greater Vancouver the present rate of 5 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour drops to 5 cents after the minimum is reached. Under the new rate it will drop from 5 cents to 2 cents under the same conditions. There will be a further reduction which will enable houses of more than 1,000 square feet area to reach the 2-cent rate more quickly than at present," Mr. Murrin added. "This will effect a saving, as it will mean that more of the current consumed will be charged at a lower rate."

2,000 CONVICTS IN PRISON IN CALIFORNIA END FIGHT WITH SURRENDER

Prison directors and representatives of Governor C. G. Young, gathered at the prison to advise Warden Court Smith and kept a night-long vigil. They had planned extreme measures to force the effect to-day should the prisoners prove obstinate. One of the two guards died in the first rioting shortly before noon. The other died last evening of heart failure as he stood guard at the outer gate.

PITCHED BATTLE
The first pitched battle of the revolt was staged yesterday afternoon when more than 1,000 shots were exchanged between the armed prisoners and the besieging party.

The convicts killed and those wounded are reported by prison officials to have been struck by a volley through the windows.

START OF FIGHT

The riot started during a moving picture show about 11 a.m. with the shooting of Guard Ray Singleton, who was killed in the melee, the wounding of Guard Neil in the leg and the stabbing of Guard Korhanson and Guard Deady. It was a concerted move by the leader, whose identity is suspected by the officials, and apparently was at a prearranged signal.

Singleton arose from his seat in the picture show, which also serves as a library, to herd the prisoners back into the cell tier, when he was assaulted. As he fell the convicts attacked the others. Apparently the riot was dead as they all fell to the floor, the convicts left them and took possession of the old cell house.

In the meantime a general alarm had been sounded and calls were sent out for all available help in Sacramento, Yolo, Placer, Eldorado, San Joaquin and Yuba counties. These calls were sent out by Warden Smith as he sat in his office. When this work was done it was discovered his position was commanded by the rioters.

GUARDS RESCUED

Left to their fate the wounded guards finally made their way into the prison hospital, from where they subsequently were removed by ambulance driven by Sacramento police. They were taken out to the outer yard, and Gorhamson to the Sutter Hospital in Sacramento.

Later the enraged convicts returned and mutilated the body of Singleton with knives, even going so far as to dismember it.

FIRST MOVE AWAITED

Following the general rush at the opening of the riot, which prison authorities now say they had been fearing would break out at any time for months, the convicts secured the prisoners the besiegers and besieged awaited the other to make the first move.

Governor Young in the meantime at his office in the State Capitol in Sacramento, where he remained on duty at a late hour last night, ordered out the guard units in Sacramento. He also placed Colonel Wallace Mason in command, General Mitchell being out of town. The general arrived later by aeroplane. Bert B. Meek, Alexander R. Heron, director of finance, and other high state officers, including Keith Carlin and Vincent Kennedy, secretaries to Governor Young, appeared at the prison. Meek assumed command on the outside in the absence of Warden Smith, acting as Governor Young's personal representative.

The guards, traffic officers, prison authorities and state police and deputy sheriffs and California and Sacramento city police deployed around the outer wall, while an effort was made to dislodge the rioters with tear bombs. This move was made from the river side by a group of police led by Capt. John Larkin of the prison guard. This rally, on which the officers sneaked in under the windows, brought shots from the convicts.

Frank Boniface, a Sacramento officer, whose arm was grazed by one of the convicts' bullets, owes his life to the fact that the prisoner who fired the shot had his eyes filled with tears and his aim was poor.

Hughes, while this effort was going on, was down alongside the library building. As he made his way toward the wall the convicts opened fire on him, and shot him down with a bullet through his thigh. The next instant he had been shot in the chest and then answered with a general volley, and it was this shooting which killed and wounded several convicts.

The extent of the damage to the convicts was learned by Dr. T. W. Day, prison surgeon, who went into the cell-house and who was openly received by the prisoners.

The damage laid down by the authorities, which was directed through the barred windows, was halted by the waving of white flags by some of the more timid murderers, but although these flags halted the shooting they brought no change in the situation.

With the showing of the white flag, Capt. Larkin went up to the cellhouse and laid down the terms on which the battle would be called off. The men were informed they would have to come out of the building in an orderly manner, twenty-five at a time, and surrender. There were no promises made.

Larkin's terms were met by a general roar in the rear of the building and the door leading into the yard was seen to open, but none of the convicts stepped through.

Rumors leaked out of the riot headquarters were that the leaders had taken command of the door and were resisting with their weapons all attempts to surrender.

With the coming of dusk, at which time Smith made his way from his temporary prison within the prison, Col. Mason and Meek started their arrangements for a long and bitter siege in the cold and damp foothill climate. The National Guardsmen, ordered out in mid-afternoon, arrived crowded in motor trucks, and each machine brought additional machine guns and trained gun crews. These men also carried side arms, and those not needed in the operation of the automatic rifles carried Springfield and an unlimited supply of ammunition.

TROOPS AROUND WALL

The National Guardsmen were stationed around the wall for the night guard. These men were armed with pistols and rifles and several machine guns were mounted to supplement them. There also was a machine gun guard mounted along the railroad between the prison and the American River. The duty of guarding the buildings wherein the convicts had set up their fort was assigned to the traffic officers, city police, state police and deputy sheriffs, and the authorities were prepared to keep the guard on as long as the prisoners might decide to hold out.

FLIN FLON MINING PLANS ADVANCED

Federal, Manitoba and Saskatchewan Governments
Discussing Details

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The Flin Flon mining development scheme probably will be proceeded with very shortly. This is the opinion expressed following a conference between Hon. Charles Stewart, Federal Minister of the Interior, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Charles Dunning, Federal Minister of Railways and Canals, here yesterday. As soon as Premier Gardiner of Saskatchewan becomes fully aware of the whole situation it is stated the proposals for developing the Flin Flon mining area probably will be pushed forward immediately. Further details of the scheme were wired to the Saskatchewan Premier for his consideration.

ROYALTY EXEMPTION

Approximately 2 1/2 miles of mineralized area in Saskatchewan are directly concerned in the proposal for a twenty-year royalty exemption, to which proposal Saskatchewan's consent has been asked. It is further proposed to construct the $12,000,000 smelter. It is stated on the Manitoba-Saskatchewan boundary, so that one-half of the smelter development will be taxable by Saskatchewan. Representatives of the Whitney interests, it is understood, are adverse to the extension of any option and desire to have the whole matter concluded by December.

ference at Geneva, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, said: "I have been asked whether I am prepared to define a 'war of aggression.' I am not. It would be a mistake to lay down in advance any definition."

GENEVA PROTOCOL

Referring to the Dominions and opposition to the Geneva Protocol, Sir Austen said: "We shall have to reserve anything concerning the Dominions and make it perfectly clear we would not arbitrate on any matter within the sovereign jurisdiction in a state itself. If we are unprepared to take any engagement in advance which might require consent legislation in the Parliaments of the Empire that does not mean we are not ready to use the fullest possible measure of arbitration for the settlement of disputes."

There are 245 representatives in the Parliament of Canada," Mr. Egan stated. "We think that as a matter of justice to all, Mr. Caldwell should name the members he may wish to charge with trafficking in immigration permits and state all the facts in his possession."

While he had heard rumors in the matter, Mr. Egan said he had never been able to trace any traffic in these special permits.

way to New York it has eluded the Canadian craft, which were on the lookout for it.

Last Sunday the yacht collided with a bridge over the Lachine Canal at Montreal. A deposit of $25,000 was made with the port authorities of Montreal before the ship was allowed to clear.

When the yacht was heading down the St. Lawrence the authorities decided it should be held. A customs cruiser in the Gulf watched for it, but failed to intercept it.

On passing Quebec Tuesday the captain of the yacht refused to put into that port to land the pilot, Leony Gendron, who was compelled to jump over the side with a life belt in order to get ashore.

Ashore Gendron stated he summoned the captain three times to stop the vessel, but the captain maintained he was master on board.

The pilot was picked up and taken ashore in a small boat.

COMMON SENSE THE KEY

GREAT BRITAIN IS RELUCTANT TO lay down any more 10,000-ton cruisers at present in the hope that naval limitation may yet be reached. This is the statement which the Rt. Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, made to the House of Commons on Wednesday. It is a significant pronouncement as it stands; it is still more significant when put alongside the declaration which the same Minister made the other day—to the effect that Great Britain would proceed with only one of the three craft for which this year's programme provides, and that an 8,000-ton vessel.

The first statement from Mr. Bridgeman has aroused a good deal of interest in the United States and it is safe to say that our neighbor's interest will increase as a result of the second. The New York World considers it "not only gratifying in itself but very significant in the light of the failure of the Geneva Conference," for it sees "in cutting down the year's programme to one-third of its original size" the British Government "more moderate in action than it is in theory." The world believes the same is true of the Government at Washington. "We, too, at Geneva," it proceeds, "stood out for principles and for a theoretical naval programme which in fact we do not desire to carry out," for "neither Government really desires to engage in large competitive building," and "neither is really alarmed about the purposes of the other." The World then asks:

Why, then, with such reasonable intentions on both sides should it have been so difficult to make an agreement at Geneva? The answer, we believe, is that nations may act with common sense but pride often prevents them from admitting it. British pride could not stand a treaty which signed away the ancient British tradition of naval supremacy. American pride could not endure a treaty which failed to place this country on a plane of theoretical equality with Britain. In fact the British want a certain number of ships, and we want a certain number of ships. But when it became a question of setting down in black and white the theory which was to govern the size of the two navies, each side, pride, jealousy made it impossible to find a form of words.

The moral is that for the moment common sense will do more than treaties. The British Government has shown that, in spite of the failure at Geneva, it is prepared to reduce its naval building. There is no doubt that the Coolidge Administration decided months ago that it, too, would not allow the failure at Geneva to drive it into naval jingoism. The attitudes of the two Governments are reassuring. They show that the will to peace exists. That is what matters. No treaty is worth much without it, and with it a satisfactory treaty can sooner or later be written.

These observations of the New York newspaper are similar in tone to the debate which followed Mr. Bridgeman's second announcement on Wednesday. A Conservative speaker asked the First Lord of the Admiralty if he thought British trade routes would be adequately protected in view of the fact that Great Britain has a normal food supply sufficient only for seven weeks. Before the Government's spokesman could reply Lady Astor pointedly asked: "Who is attacking?" The inquiry was followed by loud opposition cheers and when they had subsided Mr. Bridgeman declared that "we have taken all these things into consideration." Renewed opposition enthusiasm greeted Lady Astor's further inquiry: "Is anybody attacking our food supplies?" No reply was given to Colonel Wedgwood when he asked: "Has not the First Lord reason to regard the American Navy as an additional safeguard in time of trouble?" There the debate ended.

Although the Geneva Conference was a failure, therefore, as we are reminded by The New York World, common sense on the part of peoples and governments yet may accomplish more than formal treaties. It is to be hoped, none the less, that the lead now given will result in still greater progress towards disarmament long before 1931, the date set for the next naval limitations discussion. Sir Austen Chamberlain warned the House of Commons yesterday that he thought the lesson to be learned from the Geneva gathering was that "preliminary diplomatic preparation" prior to such a discussion should be made. The British Foreign Secretary's view in this regard is by no means new. In The London Review of Reviews last August Mr. Wickham Steed, after the fiasco, repeated his warning. He said:

The reasons for the failure are not far to seek. Want of co-ordinated preparation, the absence of any clearly defined object, and incapacity to understand the political and moral dimensions of the hour have been chief among them. When President Harding issued invitations to the Washington Conference for the limitation of Naval Armaments in the summer of 1921, there was similar unreadiness on the part of the British Coalition Government to understand all the implications of the American proposal. It may well be that President Harding and his advisers did not fully understand them—any more than President Coolidge knew what he meant the Geneva Conference to achieve. But in 1921 steps were taken, partly as a result of private initiative, to have the whole position studied from the standpoint of the higher interests of the British Commonwealth before the Washington Conference met. Consequently the British Delegation was prepared with a general policy, and despite the surprise which Mr. Balfour's opening upon that Conference at its opening sitting, it was possible to attain fundamental concordance of view between British and American Delegates and to turn a dangerous experiment into a success.

All this, however, is like crying over spilled milk. The Geneva business no doubt has taught each nation a lesson. Great Britain seems to be acknowledging it in the most practical fashion and there is every reason to believe, as The New York World confidently expects, that our neighbors will follow her lead.

SHAVIAN HUMOR

IT WOULD BE FAIRLY SAFE TO assume that Mr. George Bernard Shaw delivers most of his public lectures with his tongue in his cheek and a twinkle in his eye. He addressed the Fabian Society the other night and tried to show that democracy was a delusion and that Mussolini had adopted the right idea. In his opinion political issues should be discussed over the radio and listeners given an opportunity to register "aye" or "nay" in respect of any measure placed before them. Beyond that he considered a dictator on the Fascist plan could do all that was necessary, maintaining that dictatorship was the natural government for man.

If Mr. Shaw really believed that a dictatorship in Great Britain would be welcomed by the people as their natural system of government, he is missing a fine chance to make a great name for himself outside the realm of letters. He might make a start by suppressing such newspapers as The Manchester Guardian or The London Times and a host of smaller but quite influential journals. An edict prohibiting the public discussion of all matters of a controversial nature which, under a dictatorship, of course, would be disposed of by an unchallengeable official decree, also would assist his scheme.

Mr. Shaw's suggestion is all the more amusing coming from an Irishman. He seems to forget that the introduction of the Mussolini system into Great Britain would be followed almost instantly by the suppression of himself. For the government with whose policies he could agree still has to be formed, while the dictator under whose decrees he would be content to remain silent would be a freak indeed. But if democracy has been the failure which Mr. Shaw says it has, it still is possible for the people to dispose of the services of a government which does not obey their instructions. That is a priceless privilege which no enlightened people ever will forego.

STILL ON THE UP GRADE

TWO IMPORTANT ITEMS OF NEWS were printed yesterday. One was that Victoria's bank clearings for the week ending at noon amounted to $2,594,414, as against $1,806,925 for the corresponding week of last year. This represents a forty per cent. advance and follows up continual gains of twenty and twenty-five per cent. for many months past. The other item came from the City Hall and showed that very nearly ninety per cent. of the city's taxes had been paid so far this year, the percentage already reached having set a post-war record. This is evidence that business in Victoria continues on the up-grade.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BALANCE OF POWER
From The New York World

To nations which live in the fine isolation of the United States it no doubt seems at times as if there were some stubbornly perverted desire to make mischief in the energy with which European statesmen continue to develop bloc alliances. Yet the bloc alliance is only the natural result of the untrustworthy nature of European nations to seek protection against too many neighbors. Of the manner in which the system works we now have one more instance in the new treaty which France is to sign with Yugoslavia on November 15. This is the background of the treaty: Before the Locarno Conference France thought of Germany as the chief threat to her peace and of Poland as her strongest ally on the Continent of Europe. The Locarno Treaties did much both to reassure France on the score of Germany and to annul the advantages which France had found in her alliance with Poland. Simultaneously, to French eyes there appeared a threat in a new direction, in signs of a growing imperialism in Italy, several ambitious predictions made by Mussolini and a number of incidents all pointing to Italy's intention to assert a new and larger authority as a Mediterranean power. Italy herself, meantime, was involved in a series of disputes with Yugoslavia, her neighbor on the east; chiefly over the small buffer state of Albania, which is shaped not unlike a keg of dynamite and has about the same portent for Europe. From these facts has come what might be expected in the system of bloc alliances; namely, a shift in French interest in Southeastern Europe, negotiations with Italy's disaffected neighbor on the east, and now a treaty—described as a mere treaty of friendship and mutual defence, and not an alliance. It is none the less significant to French eyes all this is merely foreboding action in the interest of self-defence. To Italian eyes it is inevitably evidence of a policy of encirclement, with Italy between the pincers of France and Yugoslavia. Italy cannot fail to take note of this new treaty, and in fact may be said already to have taken note of it by sending the Italian fleet on a somewhat portentous visit to Tangier.

This is the way the system of bloc alliances works, and in this case it is not reassuring.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

SUSQUEHANNA RIVER, rising in Otsego Lake, New York, and flowing 400 miles into Chesapeake Bay, is one of America's most beautiful streams. It runs down a broad valley, giving ample drainage for parts of two states. It is filled with many little islands, and is not particularly deep. The valleys and hills surrounding the stream are most verdant, and the grandeur of the valley and river have been sung since Colonial days.

DO YOU KNOW

That the flag as a military ensign, probably had its origin from the field standards of the Romans and other ancient nations who fastened a square piece of cloth to a cross-bar at the end of a spear. It may also be traced to the whip and its lash symbolizing the authority of a leader over men.

COMMISSION GOES ON TO VANCOUVER

Expert Testimony of Local Broker Heard; $100,000 Is Sum Involved

Before the commission which sat to inquire into the succession duty claims on the Isaac Uttermyer estate rose yesterday afternoon to Vancouver, Cecil Branson, of Branson, Brown & Co., local brokerage firm, gave expert evidence.

The commission's findings may mean a difference of thousands of dollars in the matter of the Uttermyer estate taxes. The Crown claims $100,000, and J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., claims that the duty should be no more than $60,000. Mr. Branson was called by Henry C. Hall, K.C., to give testimony to the inquiry.

Mr. Branson told the commission, A. D. Macfarlane, his views concerning investments in mining stocks, with particular reference to the Premier Gold Mining Company, with which stock the commission is at present dealing. He gave technical evidence regarding conditions in 1926 and to-day with reference to the company and the dealings of his own firm in the stock of that concern.

Witness explained supply and demand matters. In discussing comparative values of stocks, he said that as a broker he would say that security was a consideration which came before that of returns. He agreed with Mr. Farris that sometimes high dividends suggested an investment of a speculative nature.

The commission rose soon after three o'clock to continue its hearing in Vancouver to-morrow.

Appeal in Bureau Suit is Now Filed

Regina, Nov. 25.—Echoes of the suit for damages for alleged slander brought by Senator Jacques Bureau, former Minister of Customs in the Liberal Government, against Milton Campbell, M.P. for Mackenzie, Sask., and W. J. Smith of Invermay, will be heard

The council opened with all the members present except His Worship the Mayor, who arrived later in the evening, having come by boat from Vancouver. It was decided at the meeting to construct a riveted bridge at Point Ellice at a cost of $65,000.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Increasing easterly to southerly winds, unsettled, followed by rain.

Schooner Enterprise, which it was thought would be the third sealer to be dispatched from Victoria to the sealing grounds off the Falkland Islands, is not after all to leave for those waters. Her owner, Mr. Clarke, is now in the city on business in connection with the sealer.

On the steamer Amur, which arrived here from Skagway this morning, were the first people from Dawson to avail themselves of the new transportation facilities provided since navigation ceased along the Yukon. They travelled overland by stage, and though the road en route was far from being in the best condition, made the trip in something like four days.

The ping pong tournament which opened this afternoon at St. John's Church promises to be a great success. Matches will be played in ladies' singles and doubles.

In the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal early in March. Notice of appeal by the two defendants against the judgment in favor of Senator Bureau has been served upon A. R. Tingley, K.C., of this city, counsel for Senator Bureau.

The judgment appealed from was given by Mr. Justice Taylor at Humboldt October 23, damages to the amount of $1,500 being allowed against each of the defendants, who were also ordered to pay the costs of the action. The judgment followed a decision by a jury. A stay of proceedings with regard to the sums of money was entered some time ago, but the costs are now being taxed and will be paid.

MUNICIPAL I.O.D.E. BUSY WITH GRAVES

Concrete Six More in Soldiers' Plot; Paths to be Tended By City

Much satisfaction at the decision of the City Council to tend the paths at Rose Bay Cemetery and keep them in order was expressed at the monthly meeting of the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. yesterday. The Chapter has been for some time voicing its objections to the untidy appearance of the cemetery, particularly in the neighborhood of the soldiers' plot which the I.O.D.E. makes a special care, and the letter from the council agreeing to improve conditions was read at the meeting.

Mrs. Mortimer Appleby announced that six more graves of ex-service men had been finished with concrete by the chapters. At the Armistice anniversary she had made and placed on the Cross of Sacrifice a laurel and poppy cross.

Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, regent, was in the chair and commended to the members the work of the National Council of Education, urging them to attend all of its lectures when possible. She also drew their attention to the lectures arranged by the Social Service League.

The appointments of Mrs. P. E. Corby as a municipal secretary was formally ratified. Mrs. Gillespie referred with pride to the splendid turnout of members of the I.O.D.E. at the memorial and theatre, and Mrs. H. K. Prior was thanked for making the wreath which was placed on the memorial.

Mrs. Gillespie also gave an interesting resume of the proceedings at the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter, held at Burnaby.

Plans were made for the distribution of the Christmas hamper, Mrs. G. R. Chisholm being appointed convener. Chapter secretaries are requested to telephone the names of volunteer workers to her at 77251. An executive meeting will be held on December 20.

Before the business commenced the meeting passed a silent tribute of sympathy to Their Majesties the King and Queen in the death of the Marquess of Cambridge, and to Miss V. B. V. Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Miles in their recent sad bereavements.

The arrangements for the Navy League ball to be held at the Empress Hotel on Friday, December 9, are now well advanced. Among those who have been invited to the event are Hon. W. C. and Mrs. Nichol, Dr. and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Goward, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Glen, Mr. and Mrs. H. Swinerton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gillespie, Mrs. R. P. Rithet, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Captain and Mrs. Troup, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wilson. The tickets will be limited in number to 400.

There were a large number of members present at the Armistice anniversary when the Victoria Garrison Band held its opening night of the season. Among others on the courts were noticed: Capt. and Mrs. W. C. Merston, Capt. and Mrs. Glen, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Denison, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McGivern, Mrs. M. L. Gillespie, the Misses Ines Carey, M. Campbell, J. Gibson, V. Lamb, M. G. Miller, H. Nicholson, F. Oates, B. Oates, J. Turner, A. Wilson, M. Wilson, Pitts and Pemberton, Major Cobbett, Major Wise, Major Campbell, Himes, Capt. R. E. A. Diepke, Capt. Carew Martin, Dr. Ridewood and Messrs. E. S. Brown, V. G. F. Barton, H. Crane, R. H. Edgell, H. S. Flett, T. C. Holmes, J. H. A. Tomlin, G. E. Whitney-Griffiths, H. Patterson and others.

Miss Melba Gibson and Miss Winnifred McDonald were joint hostesses Wednesday evening at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the former in honor of Miss Cora Lister, a popular bride-elect. The gifts were presented in decorated baskets by little Audrey Meaton and Doreen Nicholson. The rooms were prettily decorated with autumn flowers and foliage. During the evening Mrs. Meaton recited vocal solos and little Doreen Nicholson contributed solo dances. The invited guests were Mrs. E. Lovell, Mrs. M. Plans for the erection of the stalls and exhibits for the city Temple Fancy Fair and Circus have now been completed and are announced by the management.

With the Fair opening on Wednesday, teams will begin work at the Armories at 9 o'clock on Tuesday evening next and work till midnight. In that three hours of labor it is expected that all the exhibits will be roughly completed, only waiting for the finishing touches; furnishing of the exhibits and decoration by the commercial firms and Temple organizations on Wednesday morning.

When His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie enter the Armories to open the fair the building will be a positive Fairyland of decorations and beauty. No expense is being spared and workers are busy preparing decorations which will canopy the big Bay Street arena from roof to balconies. Streamers will cascade from the girders of the building, composed of many colors, which will be enhanced in their loveliness by the glow of auxiliary lighting effects created by the B.C. Electric and the Sun Electric Company. Above the circus ring will be a battery of powerful lights, as also above the huge dancing platform. From the topmost height of the drill hall a huge searchlight will play upon the aerial artists and trapeze performers as they go through their stunts.

John Coolidge A "Perfect Peach" Girl Friend Says

Mt. Holyoke, Mass., Nov. 25.—As one youngster to another, John Coolidge, son of President Coolidge, and Miss Sarah Kunsig of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., a student in the sophomore class at Mt. Holyoke College here, are exchanging compliments. Miss Kunsig has won prominence lately as a more-or-less constant partner with young John at dances in this vicinity.

"John is a perfect peach," was her remark in an interview on the subject. "He is so very polished and smooth, and he dances divinely. They talk about his being shy and reserved, but—well, anyhow he is a peach."

Miss Kunsig comes under that category herself and John, who is a student at Amherst, doesn't need to be quoted on that. Her hair is very light—almost blonde. Her eyes are gray blue and her features very regular. She has a ready smile, a rippling, joyous laugh, and a vivacious, delightful manner.

"Oh, I've known John for ever so long," she confided in answer to a leading question. "I first met him at a dance in Amherst last year."

"Thank you and good luck," offered the interviewer.

"Afraid I haven't a chance," was the quick retort. "There's too much competition!"

THISTLES AND FIVE C'S MEET IN CUP MATCH

Only Senior Football Match Scheduled To-morrow is in Province Cup Series

Both Teams Strengthened; Juniors and Juveniles Have Ten Matches on Card

Followers of First Division football in Victoria will have only one game to focus their interest on to-morrow afternoon when the Saanich Thistles and Five C's meet at the Royal Athletic Park in a Province Cup tie fixture. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and a large crowd is expected. F. Saunders will be the referee.

These clubs are meeting in the preliminary round of the series for the British Columbia football championship. Equivalents, through winning the city championship last season, have been awarded one of the two places reserved in the series for Victoria. The team winning out in the city series will represent Victoria, along with the Dockers. In the local series the Thistles, Five C's, Victoria West and Victoria City have entered.

BOTH TEAMS STRENGTHENED

For to-morrow's match both the Thistles and Five C's have strengthened their line-up. Larry Kennedy, who played full-back for the team all last season, will be back in his playing togs and will pair up with Wes Harper. The Thistles' half-back line will also be changed. Jim Crowe, one of the regulars, will be replaced by George Gandy. Foster, who has been playing right full-back, will be moved up to inside right in place of Saville, who will be on the reserve list. Johnny Minnis, who played all last year and part of this season with the Thistles, has transferred to Victoria City.

The Five C's have strengthened their line-up with the addition of Ernie Harwood on their half-back line. Harwood, who has been playing with the Canadian Scottish and should be a great help to the Five C's youngsters. Both the Quinlan brothers will be in the line-up, which assures good shooting ability.

The teams will be as follows:

Five C's—Tuckwell, White, Viggers, Reg. Shafts, Hood, Harwood, Groves, Sutton, Eric Quinlan, Eden Quinlan and F. Viggers.

INJURES HIS EYE

LIONEL CONACHER

In the game between Toronto and the New York Americans in the National Hockey League last night Conacher collided with Art Duncan and his eye was badly injured, necessitating his removal from the game. Conacher is a wonderful athlete and ranked as one of the greatest Canadian amateurs, of all time before turning to a pro. He played hockey, lacrosse and baseball and was proficient at them all.

SILVER LINING STILL MISSING FOR AMERICANS

New York Team Loses Third Straight Game in National Hockey League

Conacher Hurt; Five Teams Tied For Lead in Canadian Pro League; Results

New York, Nov. 25 (Canadian Press).

Still looking unsuccessfully for the silver lining in their journey through the National Hockey League the New York Americans lost their third game in a row when they went down last night at Madison Square Garden before the Toronto Maple Leafs two to one. The Americans have made a goal in each of their three games played, but to date they remain without a point. They played a hard game last night, but lacked the finishing punch.

Day gave Toronto the lead early in the first period and the Americans scored half-way in the second. Before the period closed, however, Toronto again spurred into the lead. From this stage to the end the Americans played strenuously, but ineffective hockey.

PLAY VERY EVEN

There was little to choose between the teams on the night's play. Day gave the Leafs a goal advantage in the first period when the puck went into the goal under Miller's arm on a long shot. Martin Barry, Montreal recruit, tied the score half-way through the second period, but after injury to his eye, received in the scuffle with Duncan, Barry slapped the puck into the American net on a pass from Cox just before the period ended.

The Americans had a big margin in the third period, but were unable to score.

When McCaffery was given a minor penalty for loafing behind his blue line, the referee objected to his backfist and the Toronto defence star had the penalty raised to a major.

RUGBY CARD IS NOW DOWN TO THREE GAMES

Two Games in Senior League and One in Intermediate League To-morrow

Brentwood and University Meet Next Week in Deciding Game

With the final big attraction of the Intermediate League set over for one week the Senior League has the rugby field pretty much to themselves to-morrow afternoon. The intermediates have one match scheduled but it has no bearing on the standing.

It was expected, for a time, that the important match between the University School and Brentwood College to decide which team would win the first half of the Intermediate League schedule would be on the programme to-morrow, but this has been held over for one week.

AT END OF FIRST HALF

The intermediates opened their league several weeks before the seniors and they have now reached the end of their schedule. They will not start the second half of the league until early in the New Year.

The only match scheduled in the Intermediate League to-morrow is between the Oak Bay Wanderers and the Normal School. They will meet at the Cranmore Road grounds, with the kick-off at 3 o'clock.

The Senior League has two good games on tap and some good, keen rugby should be seen. The main attraction will be at Work Point Park, where the Canadian Scottish and United Services will meet.

WENMAN WITH SCOTTISH

The Scottish, who played a good game in their opening match last week, have added Ben Wenman, famous back, to their line-up. He will play at five-eighths, where he will be able to make plenty of openings for his three-quarters. Several switches will be made in the line-up and the Scottish look for a thrilling match with the Services, who have yet to taste defeat in the league.

The other game in the Senior League will be between the J.B.A.A. last year's champions, and the Pirates. The Pirates will play at five-eighths, where he will be able to make plenty of openings for his three-quarters. Several switches will be made in the line-up and the Scottish look for a thrilling match with the Services, who have yet to taste defeat in the league.

CLIFF BRICKER WINS BERWICK RACE FOR SECOND YEAR; SERGEANT WINS AT DETROIT

Galt, Ont., Nov. 25.—This city is highly excited over the feat of two Galt lads in capturing the Thanksgiving road race features at Berwick, Pa., and Detroit, Mich., yesterday.

While the brilliant Clifford Bricker, winner of practically every marathon run in the United States and Canada, was capturing the Berwick race of nine and one-quarter miles in near record time for the second straight year, Fred Sergeant, a Galt boy, was winning the Detroit Amateur Athletic Association's annual Thanksgiving Day ten-mile race, giving Galt and Canada a double victory.

His time for the nine and one-quarter miles mountain course was 48 minutes 22 seconds; 25½ seconds behind the record established by Willie Ritola in 1922. In view of the rain-soaked and muddy course, Bricker's performance was considered remarkable.

John Bell of St Bonaventure College finished second in 49:47, and Bill Cox, Pennsylvania State College, Intercollegiate cross-country champion, third in 50:20.

Ove Anderson, Finland, pulled up in fourth place, 4:45 seconds behind Cox. Two other Canadians, Harold Webster, Hamilton, Ont., and Charles Snell, Toronto, finished sixth and tenth, respectively. Webster's time was 50:34, and Snell's 52:30 3-5.

Cox set the pace for the first two and a half miles, but he could not stand the clip set by Bricker and Bell going up the first of the two long hills, and both passed him. Bricker gradually pulled out in the lead and retained it to the end of the long grind. Ten of the starters failed to finish.

Johnny Miles of Sydney Mines, N.S., who had been one of the favorites, did not start in the race.

Several thousand persons stood in a downpour of rain to watch the race.

Patterson, H. Hetherington, A. Bailey, H. Robson and V. Shoemaker. These players are asked to meet at the "Y" at 2 o'clock.

COLISEUM STOCK COMPANY PRESENTS
"THE BALLOON GIRL"

The show at the Coliseum this week is one that should not be missed as the Ray Bell Stock Company is entering its second week in the presentation of "The Balloon Girl," a comedy drama of rural and circus life.

The story is written around a parachute jumper that unintentionally lands into a minister's house, and the comic situations that arise are a scream. On the screen is "April Fool," starring Duane Thompson, who has recently been recruited to the studios of feature producers from the Christie studios, where she played leading roles in short comedies.

BUSTER COLLIER
IN "SUNSET DERBY" IS GOOD JOCKEY

If William Collier, Jr., ever gets tired of the movies he can earn a comfortable living as a jockey. That is the declaration of the jockeys at the Tia Juana race track who saw Collier ride during the filming of racing scenes for "The Sunset Derby," the first National picture now showing here at the Playhouse Theatre. Collier and the other members of the company spent a week filming racing scenes at the

FAMOUS COLLEGE
ATHLETES APPEAR
IN "FAIR CO-ED"

In the supporting cast of Marion Davies' new starring vehicle, "The Fair Co-ed," now at the Dominion Theatre, are seen a number of the best football players of America, a thousand students from various colleges and universities, the champion all-round woman athlete of the world, famous coaches and physical instructors and the cheer leaders of various big schools.

The Four Playmates, an excellent musical act, which is presented at the Dominion this week consists of novelty singing; that is really entertaining. These four singers have voices which blend beautifully and their various numbers are receiving a hearty reception nightly. As a quartette the Four Playmates have made one of the biggest hits throughout their Pacific Coast tour.

CORNFLAKES USED AS SNOW IN SCENES OF CAPITOL FILM

In "Back to God's Country," at the Capitol Theatre to-day, with Renee Adoree in the starring role, a clever combination of real snow scenes taken in the middle of winter in the California mountains and synthetic snow scenes taken on sets at Universal City, was effected by technicians.

The scenes shot on the sets match in perfectly with the other shots and Director Irvin Willat defies anyone to detect them.

The artificial snow was concocted from a mixture of gypsum, salt, flour, and bleached cornflakes. This gave it the required lightness, brilliance and consistency which real snow possesses. Wind machines were used to blow this mixture across the camera with resultant effects that compare perfectly with the real blizzard scenes filmed at Mammoth, California.

The cast of "Back to God's Country" in support of Miss Adoree, includes Robert Frazer, Walter Long, Mitchell Lewis, Adolph Millar and James Mason.

"ARIZONA NIGHTS"
IS COLUMBIA FILM
WITH FRED THOMSON

Never before has such care been taken in the assignment of minor roles of a film production as is evident in "Arizona Nights," latest F.B.O. vehicle starring Fred Thomson, the current attraction at the Columbia Theatre. Believing that the ultimate success of a production depends largely upon the care shown in selecting even the most unimportant characters, director Lloyd Ingraham chose a number of capable and well-known screen figures for the cast. Prominent actors who fill minor roles in "Arizona Nights" are J. P. McGowan, William Courtwright, Dan Peterson, Lottie Williams, and William McCormick.

CLEVER FARCE
STAGED TO-NIGHT

"A Woman's Way," Co-optimist Company's Offering at Crystal Garden

A three-act play bubbling over with good humor and mirthful situations will be presented at the Crystal Garden this evening. The play is a clever satire on the modern divorce evil, but, unlike so many plays dealing with this subject, it does not deal with questionable scenes and situations. The humor is entirely in satirical vein. The complications are ridiculous and just how a designing widow breaks the spell in a "Woman's Way" brings the evening's fun to a happy climax.

The cast includes Mr. Legge-Willis, Richard Blomfield, Miss Clare Vincent and Mrs. Legge-Willis.

The stage play is to be followed by a musical concert by the Crystal Garden orchestra and two hours of dancing.

Dance—A.O.F. ballroom, Monday night. Pitt's orchestra, 9 to 12. Admission, 25c and 50c.

have become famous as Laurence Stallings, co-author of "What Price Glory," at the Dominion Theatre next week.

Stallings got the job, which was not a very important one, and slowly won his way up the staff of The World as dramatic critic and literary editor. Somewhere, he found time to turn out a war novel, "Plumes," and in the hours after dark he was suspected by his fellow workers of concocting a war play, with Maxwell Anderson.

In Connecticut, the drama, then known simply as "Glory," had its opening and caused little excitement. Then, with the title changed to "What Price Glory," because some musical show boasted the shorter name, the Marines came charging onto Broadway.

What happened then is a matter of theatrical history. The piece, so some of the spectators said, was a crying scandal because its hard-boiled heroes conversed in racy language, and they promptly told the police about it. "What Price Glory," therefore, became first page news in every paper in New York.

the previous May was the highest in Canada.

New Brunswick had the next highest rate with 26.8 compared with 27.7 for May last year.

EXCLUSION OF ALICE FISHERS WILL BE ASKED

Fishermen Will Ask Three Major Reforms in Meeting
With W. A. Found

Abolition of Traps and Seines and Elimination of Bridge Barrier

New Westminster, Nov. 25.—Three points of major importance will be placed before W. A. Found, Dominion Superintendent of Fisheries, who will meet a delegation of fishermen Saturday night. Upon receipt of a communication from the Dominion Fisheries office, Vancouver, announcing the willingness of the superintendent to meet fishermen's representatives, the executive of the British Columbia Fishermen's Protective Association fixed the date and place of meeting.

In addition to Mr. Found it is expected J. A. Motherwell and A. P. Halliday, district inspectors, will be present.

The exclusion from fishing of all but British subjects will be the first point which the association will strongly urge the Dominion Government, through its representative, to effect.

FOREIGN FISHERMEN
The question, it is stated, is one that has long been a bone of contention with those fishermen who have been in the country for many years, and who have regarded askance the increase in their ranks by men of foreign extraction.

Fishermen will further ask for the elimination of the bridge barrier in No. 1 district. It is contended the variation of hours set for closed seasons on the Fraser river, and the men will ask that the whole of the river, to Mission, be placed upon the same footing.

Complete abolition of traps and seines throughout the fishing area in the Province is the third reform the association will urge. In this connection the men say an increase of more than 400 per cent has taken place within the last fifteen years, and declare the present unfavorable position in the salmon runs is due in a large measure to this type of fishing.

Matters to be generally discussed will be the appointment of a commission to investigate the fisheries and plans for conservation.

COAST GUARD CREW IS SAFE ASHORE

Willapa Harbor Craft Battled Mountainous Seas For Twenty-four Hours

Astoria, Nov. 25.—The morning Astorian was informed over long distance telephone by Capt. Herman Windbeck of the North Coast coastguard station at Willapa Harbor that his boat and crew of seven landed at Tokeland, Wash., at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon after rescuing the lone occupant of a fishing boat.

Capt. Windbeck and his men had been missing at sea since they left North Cove Tuesday evening to search for a lost trawler, and that his men got the engine working just in time to save themselves.

The boat made what Capt. Windbeck described as a "tribble" voyage up the coast to Tokeland amidst heavy seas that threatened at all times to destroy the tiny craft.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 12th Meridian west. It is counted from 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for high water are distinguished by high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tide periods without springing.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lowest low water.

CUTTER AND TUG NOW STANDING BY TENPAISAN MARU

Will Make Attempt to Pull Vessel Off at High Tide This Afternoon

Local Salvage Vessel Nearing
Scene of Wreck; Crew in no Danger

Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 25.—Pounded by heavy seas, but not leaking, the disabled Japanese steamship Tenpaisan Maru was still aground on a shallow sandy bottom off Copalis, near here, to-day, but efforts were to be made at high tide to pull the ship off into deep water. The weather was moderating and the crew was in no danger.

The United States coastguard cutter Snohomish and a tug were standing by ready to attempt to pull the freighter off this afternoon.

Marine men in the harbor here expressed serious doubts that it would be possible to get the Tenpaisan Maru off, as she is resting in about only ten feet of water.

REFUSED AID

Copalis, Wash., Nov. 25.—The crew of the disabled Japanese steamship Tenpaisan Maru, fast aground on a sand reef here refused aid last night. When coastguardsmen succeeded in placing a line aboard the stranded vessel, members of the crew of four were seen to throw the line overboard and indicated their desire to stay with the ship.

The vessel, which was driven on the sand bar in a gale this morning, was settling rapidly last night, although she appeared in no danger of breaking up. Tugs were en route here from Victoria and Seattle, and will try to pull the ship off the reef.

The exact hour of arrival of the salvage tug Salvage Queen at the scene of the stranding of the Tenpaisan Maru was not known here to-day. The Pacific Salvage Company said the vessel was delayed by bad weather soon after she left here yesterday. It is expected she will reach the place some time this afternoon.

Capt. George Zeh of the Ss. Emma Alexander reported on arrival here last night that the captain of the Tenpaisan had refused his aid by wireless, at the same time thanking him for his offer of assistance.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Nov. 25.—The steamship Marosak sailing Tuesday will instead make a special trip to the Tenpaisan Maru for the Nelson Steamship Company direct service from Seattle to Los Angeles, with sailings every Tuesday and Saturday for Los Angeles and every Saturday for Los Angeles with passengers and freight. Seven steel vessels will be in the service.

William H. Todd of New York, president of the Todd Shipyards Corporation, is in Seattle on a tour of the Pacific Coast.

On her third annual voyage to this range the steamship Edna of the Italian Line will be on berth here December 2 to lift apples for Rotterdam, Hamburg and Bremerhaven.

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1927

Good and evil planetary influences contend to-day, according to astrology. The afternoon is much more favorable in planetary direction than the morning.

There is a sign of much promise for commerce, which will extend widely in the next year.

Much traffic with the Orient, or at least many vessels assembling in Oriental waters is foreseen.

The Pacific coast of the United States is to be the scene of many interesting naval maneuvers, if the stars are rightly read.

Oil and oil interests again come under the most stimulating aspects, making for tremendous expansion.

Under this direction of the stars the mind should be keen and far-seeing. This is a day in which to plan future big enterprises. This is not an auspicious way for looking into one's financial status or for dealing with banks.

It is not a fortunate rule for signing contracts and leases made while this configuration prevails, may be most unsatisfactory.

There is an aspect menacing to those who start on journeys by rail, and aviation may be peculiarly perilous.

Muscle is subject to lucky influences that promise much to American artists. Chicago is a place especially fortunate in planetary government of all the signs.

Great Britain may have serious misunderstandings with France and the United States, it is prophesied.

Powerful alliances between Germany, Austria, Russia and Turkey are foretold by the stars.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a lucky year in which they will be shielded from most misfortunes.

Children born on this day probably will be rather modest and hard-working. The subjects of this sign make good employees.

Upon their way the Buddies rode. Wee Clowny pulled a heavy load. The wagon they had hitched him to went bumping o'er the ground. "You needn't go so fast," yelled one. "Cause slow, or fast, it's lots of fun. Please take us up that nearby hill. We'll see what can be found."

So Clowny turned, and went that way, and all the Buddies cried, "Hurry! You sure know how to mind us. It's a good thing that you do. When you behave, you'll always find that we will treat you very kind. Cheer up, we'll treat you just as soon as this long ride is through."

When Clowny reached the little hill, he slipped and almost took a spill. "Look out, there," cried one Buddy. "or you'll have us on the ground." "I'm very sorry," Clowny said. And then he slowly went ahead. To pull the Buddies up the hill was mighty hard, he found.

It wasn't long till Clowny said, "I've got to rest. I'm nearly dead." The bunch replied, "Oh, it's all right to sit down, now and then." So Clowny rested up a bit until he felt that he was fit, and then he heard them yell, "Giddap," and started on again.

"Twas mighty hard to make the climb. No wonder Clowny took his time. There was no pathway, and he slipped on rocks and spots of clay. But, when he finally reached the top, it cheered him, and he thought he'd

The BLUE CAR MYSTERY

By NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN

"As you please," disdainfully, but her smile was strained as Mitchell sat back without telephoning.

"It is not necessary to consult any one," he stated briefly. "I am within my rights, Miss Whitney, and I await your answer."

Harriet seemed not to hear him; at mention of his name, her thoughts had reverted to Ned Terry. Her face flamed at recollection of her last scene with him; she closed her eyes, again she felt the touch of his lips upon hers, his strong, tender arms—ah, for woe or woe, she had given her heart into his keeping.

A voice at her elbow caused her to open her eyes with a start; a complete stranger sat by her.

"We are still awaiting your answer, Miss Whitney."

Harriet closed her eyes again and paid not the slightest attention to him. As far off came a buzz of conversation, but she sat with her eyes closed, oblivious to what was going on in the room; Ned Terry and the events of the afternoon claimed all her thoughts. The minutes became an hour, the hour stretched into another, and then into the third.

Sometime later Harriet opened her eyes sufficiently to see that Mitchell, as well as Barlow, had given his seat to another detective. Harriet looked down again in haste as the newcomer repeated Mitchell's question over and over with varying intonations. She scarcely heard him. Once again her active brain was piercing out the code she had deciphered that afternoon. How had the message read? Why, she had it: "Car key to-night."

From the doorway Inspector Mitchell beckoned to the detective on Harriet's left, gave him a few whispered directions, then took his place at her side.

"You can go home, Miss Whitney," he stated, and emphasized his words by a vigorous shake of his shoulder. "There's a taxi outside."

Harriet rose with alacrity, and still maintaining the silence behind which she had entranced herself, she walked with Mitchell to the entrance of the building. Not until she was safely inside the car did she glance at her wrist watch—midnight.

One side of the glass partition between the driver and his passenger was open and Harriet leaned over and addressed him.

"Ten dollars if you get me home in five minutes," she said. "Don't drive to the front door, but stop at the garage," and sitting back she felt the car start forward like a thing alive as she addressed him.

"Very odd," the former commented in a low tone. "Anna told me that Ned Terry called up just after Harriet went out, to inquire her whereabouts."

"Very odd," the former commented in a low tone. "Anna told me that Ned Terry called up just after Harriet went out, to inquire her whereabouts."

"Oh, do stop," she exclaimed, irritably. "My nerves won't stand any more excitement."

Ruggles halted at the foot of the couch. The housekeeper's good looks were somewhat marred by too much rouge, or was it a touch of fever which gave her a brilliant spot of color on each cheek? Her son sighed and then his lips compressed into a hard line. As his mother caught his changed expression, she shrank back on her pillows.

"Don't be cross, Rudy," she pleaded, as he looked away.

Stuffing his hands into his pockets, Ruggles continued to stare into space for fully a minute, and involuntarily his mother glanced in the same direction. On the wall opposite where she lay was a profile likeness of Commodore Whitney, the silhouette brought out with startling distinctness his aquiline nose and pug-nosed chin. Before their staring eyes, the likeness faded away and only the blank wall confronted them. With a low moan Mrs. Ruggles wrung her hands in agony.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Turkey

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was sitting alone in his hollow stump bungalow the day after Thanksgiving. For Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears had taken the forty-seven little rabbit children off to the movies.

"And I suppose," said Uncle Wiggily, speaking to himself sort of free and easy like, "I suppose I had better go out and look for an adventure. But I don't feel much like it. I guess I ate too much carrot shortcake for my Thanksgiving dinner yesterday. I wish an adventure would come here to me."

Hardly had he said these words than the rabbit gentleman heard a tapping at the side kitchen door. At first, Uncle Wiggily thought it was the wind, but again came the tapping sound, louder than before.

"Perhaps this is an adventure!" exclaimed the rabbit. "Come in," he called. And then he wished he hadn't, for he thought it might be the Wolf or the Fussy Fox tapping. But it was too late.

There was a rattling of the doorknob and in came a big turkey gobbling with his red necktie hanging down over his beak.

"Gobble, obble, obble!" softly cried the big bird. "Can you hide me somewhere, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Hide you somewhere?" asked the rabbit gentleman in surprise. "Why do you want to be hidden now? Thanksgiving is past—no one will want you for dinner until Christmas and that is a month off. You are in no danger that you need to be hidden."

"Oh, yes, I am!" cried the turkey. "Thanksgiving isn't over for me! He is still looking for me."

"Who is looking for you?" inquired the rabbit gentleman as he closed the door which the big bird had left open.

"The Farmer is looking for me," said the Turkey. "You see he had me shut up in a coop ready for Thanksgiving. I was to have been at his dinner table yesterday. But the night before last I broke out of the coop and ran away. I didn't want to be eaten for Thanksgiving. I could see nothing in that for me to be thankful for. So I ran away and hid in the woods. But I knew I couldn't stay there long. So just now I slipped out and came over here. You'll hide me, won't you?"

But I knew I couldn't stay there long. So just now I slipped out and came over here. You'll hide me, won't you?"

"The Farmer is looking for me," said the Turkey. "You see he had me shut up in a coop ready for Thanksgiving. I was to have been at his dinner table yesterday. But the night before last I broke out of the coop and ran away. I didn't want to be eaten for Thanksgiving. I could see nothing in that for me to be thankful for. So I ran away and hid in the woods. But I knew I couldn't stay there long. So just now I slipped out and came over here. You'll hide me, won't you?"

Old-time Songs
Featured To-night

Some real old-time songs will be featured during the Pacific Coast network's memory lane hour, coming to local audiences over KOMO and KPOA and other coast N.B.C. stations, between 9 and 10 o'clock.

The wheels of time will be turned back to the days when "Aloha Blue Gown" and "The Glimmering" were late hits. Other old favorites are "Take Back the Heart" and "Comrade."

Then to add variety, the old piece, "Chopsticks," has been given a modern version called "Ragging the Chopsticks." This and other songs of yesteryear will be the treat in store for those who take this weekly journey into the land of memories.

Are You Thin,
Weak, Nervous?

To have good, firm flesh and strong muscles, and the ability to do a big day's work and feel fit, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food, and properly digest it.

If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, you are probably in the same nervous, run-down condition as was Mrs. S. Jackson, 429 Agnes Street, Winnipeg, and her experience with Tanlac will guide you back to perfect health.

"For four years she suffered dreadfully with nerves until 'I got so bad,' she writes, 'I was afraid I would go into hysterics. I had such a poor appetite that I cannot understand how I ever kept alive on the little I ate. After my second bottle of Tanlac, I noticed a great improvement, and eight bottles of Tanlac made a new woman of me. Tanlac has calmed my nerves—they are as steady as a clock. As soon as I get into bed, I am off to sleep and never open my eyes until morning."

"Tanlac is a genuine vegetable-made, root, bark and herb Nature's own remedy for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist to-day, and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you."

Shirley, Nov. 25.—Not as many mem-meeting of the Shirley Women's Institute owing to stormy weather last Saturday afternoon. The president, Mrs.

P. E. Clark, was in the chair and the usual routine business having been disposed of, the Christmas tree entertainment plans were fully discussed.
It will be held on December 17 and collections are being made this week.
There is always a very generous response for this particular object.
The sum of $27 was handed over to the school trustees from two card parties, to pay for the well which has been dug on the school grounds to provide a closer water supply. The well cost in the neighborhood of $30. Mr.

the meantime. A social hour concluded the meeting.

RELATES TALE OF JESUITS' LEADER

Eden Quainton Tells Life Story of St. Ignatius of Loyola, Old World Figure

Maintaining that the strength and influence of the Jesuit order lay in their "happy combination of flexibility with discipline," Eden Quainton, delivered an address before a crowded auditorium in the Memorial Hall last night, when his subject was "St.
Ignatius of Loyola."

Discipline, the old church may have had, said the speaker, but it suffered because it put doctrine and ritual before the end in view.

While Loyola had all the zeal and the convictions of the old order, nevertheless, he possessed a liberalism which bade his place more emphasis upon the spirit of Christ's teaching than on the forms through which it should be taught.

"History teaches that you may have what system you choose; but the price is always exacted. The Catholic Church must stand in danger of rigidity of formalism, the observing of the letter rather than the spirit, in its intense insistence on discipline. On the other hand, Protestantism suffers from the danger of too much individual interpretation of the Scriptures," the speaker said.

The ideal, said Mr. Quainton, was to retain the discipline of St. Ignatius and at the same time the freedom and flexibility of the Protestant religion.

The lecturer sketched the life history of Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus, who, with his supporters came to the fore at a time when Catholicism was tottering and the Reformation was sweeping Europe.
Born in 1491, Loyola was a Basque, with the nature of those mountain dwellers of the Pyrenees. He went to the court of Queen Isabella of Spain and there first showed some of the fine qualities which made him an outstanding leader.

The speaker analyzed the character of the founder and leader of the Jesuits, sketched the salient points into his career, and maintained that actually he was a man of simple faith, great piety and fine courage.

Tremendous zeal in any cause which he championed, great ability to pick men, generous spirit, quickness of temper, and fine soldierly abilities, these were some of the attributes of Loyola, said the speaker. Intending to be a soldier, he was wounded by a cannon ball at the siege of Pampluna and it was during his convalescence that he began to read, and from this time dated his real conversion. Henceforth religion became an absorbing passion. He went to Rome, received the Pope's blessing, and made a journey to the Holy Land.

He returned with an entirely changed view of life, having set aside the frivolous. There ensued a long period of study, ending with seven years at the University of Paris. "It was there he met the men who were to become associated with him as the founders of the Society of Jesus: Francis Xavier, Lefevre and two others. Vows of poverty and chastity, a pledge to go to the Holy Land, were among their consecration pledges. They went to Italy, and at Venice Loyola met Caraffa, who afterwards became Pope Paul IV, who influenced him greatly.

GREAT ELASTICITY
Two great features of the Company of Jesus were in its rigid discipline and its great elasticity. Any rule of the society could be set aside at any time if it were in the interests of the order. Loyola showed great gifts in selecting his men. There were "no square pegs in round holes" under St.
Ignatius." He hardly ever made a mistake in picking his workers.

The speaker affirmed that Loyola was far more zealous in proclaiming the faith than he was in attacking heresies. Perhaps on this account he was regarded with some suspicion, and also because he set his face against the old idea of monasticism, "not insisting on overmuch fasting, although the life of the disciples of the order was a most strenuous one." If one wanted a soft job one did not join the Company of Jesus.

Another strength of the Society of Jesus was that it became champions of the poor. Orphan asylums were founded; they were full of good works.
Loyola, remembering, perhaps, the frivolous books which he had read as a young man, showed a curious harshness toward this class of literature.
The society never lacked courage, even going so far as setting up opposition to the use of cosmetics by women. The missionary activities of the order spread far, India, the Malayan Peninsular, Japan.

Although conservative by nature,
Loyola was very advanced, in fact
"dangerously modern," where his views on education were concerned. For him the new learning, having got hold of new methods, was merely a weapon at hand. He met with much opposition, from many quarters, one of the chiefest troubles being the jealousy from monastic orders.

"The common Protestant assumption that the Roman Catholic Church is a semi-hypnotized group of beings where everyone must agree with everyone else, is not, and never has been true," commented the speaker.
He said that it had not been unique for bitter controversies to take place in the Roman Catholic Church, which had been rent on many occasions from top to bottom by dissensions. The Jesuit movement was a political as well as a religious movement. The strength of the society rested in its solidarity.

cipline of the Mother Church, Loyola was in direct antithesis to a great deal in the modern church. The reality of the spiritual, belief in "a city of God," were among the first things with him.

A man of immense personal courage, of magnetic personality, of great faith and great energy, he was a wholesome antidote to the too lax state which was nowadays prevalent.

Abolition of Meter Rents Settles Long Point at Issue

The text of the letter from the B.C.
E.R. replying to the city's brief for the abolition of meter rents and a general reduction in electric lighting and other rates, read to the City Council at an informal session at 4 p.m. yesterday and published in The Times last night, is now available for publication. It is signed by A. T.
Goward, vice-president of the B.C.E.R.,
and reads as follows:

THE B.C.E.R. REPLY.
"You will remember the numerous interviews that we have had when the question of light and power rates in Victoria have been discussed. At these interviews I have pointed out to you the many disabilities under which our company is operating in Victoria—heavy cost, owing to physical conditions in producing power from our hydro-electric plant, heavy drain on our resources owing to operation of street railway, and many other adverse conditions which I need not further enumerate now."

"Both you and many members of your council have, however, on many occasions pressed for some revision of our lighting rates. It is, therefore, with a great deal of pleasure that I write to tell you that this question of lighting rates has been gone into very thoroughly with Mr. Kidd, the president of the company, and that I am satisfied that a very substantial reduction will be made."

"On and after January 1, 1928, the charge for meter rent will be discontinued."

"The general lighting rate will be reduced from the present rate of 7c per kilowatt hour, with subsequent steps down to 3c per kilowatt hour, to 6c per kilowatt hour, with subsequent steps down to 3c per kilowatt hour."

"There will also be reductions in commercial lighting, in sign lighting and to general commercial power users."

"In making these reductions and in rearranging our lighting schedules, it is our intention to follow the lead of practically all other cities and put into effect a small minimum charge.
This charge to be 75c per month and to apply to general lighting consumers only. All authorities agree that this is a sound and proper thing to do; and in this connection I enclose statement showing minimum charges in effect in nearby cities of similar size or larger than Victoria."

"Altogether, by the rearrangement in rates and the reductions, which we now find we are able, and, therefore, are pleased to make, and which will apply not only to Victoria City, but also to the municipalities of Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich within the three-mile circle, will mean a reduction in our revenue of a little over

$125,000 per annum, or, in other words, it can be called a gift to our citizens of that amount."

The statement referred to in the letter is one in justification of the monthly minimum charges and gives a table of similar charges in western cities as follows:

City	Population	Minimum
Portland	300,000	$1.00
Calgary	70,000	.35
Edmonton	65,000	1.00
Winnipeg	190,000	.50
Seattle	350,000	.75
Berkeley	68,000	.50
Oakland	260,000	.90
Fresno	58,500	1.00
Long Beach	91,300	1.00
Sacramento	73,000	1.00
Tacoma	110,000	.50
San Diego	105,000	.90
San Jose	45,000	1.00
Stockton	47,500	1.00
Vancouver	73,000	1.00
Vancouver	130,000	.50*
Vancouver	130,000	2.00*
Vancouver (outside points)		1.00*
Vancouver (outside points)		1.00*
Vancouver (outside points)		2.50*

*Light only (light and range).

The reduction follows extended negotiations carried on between Mr.
Goward and Mayor J. C. Pendray, and begun early this year when the ship presented the city's brief showing lighting and other costs in many centres on this seaboard. The company's reply was a happy solution of an issue long before city, more especially with regard to the abolition of meter rents, the council agreed, commending the Mayor for his initiative.

Keating

Keating, Nov. 25.—A very interesting and instructive address on "Missionary Work in India," was heard by members and friends of the South Saanich United Church young people in the church on Tuesday evening. Rev. Mr.
Buchanan, a missionary from India, was the speaker. A short business session was held by the club prior to the address. Miss Christie MacKinnon presided. The evening's programme was in charge of the religious committee, Miss Dearing and Rev. Mr. Lees, and refreshments were served to all present at the close of the meeting, con-

Wednesday, December 7, will be in charge
